

“Ability to perform successfully (under supervision)...”

- Research of geographic data - Identifying and gathering data from various sources and converting as needed to generate results or visual display.
- Evaluation of geographic data- the process of evaluating data using analytical and logical reasoning to examine each component of the data provided.
- Spatial Analysis- Spatial analysis includes a variety of techniques that analyze spatial relationships(e.g., model building, map algebra, grid models, surface form, flow analysis, locational analysis).